REQUEST FOR JOINING THE 2003 BERLIN DECLARATION ON OPEN ACCESS TO KNOWLEDGE IN THE SCIENCES AND HUMANITIES

Brusov State University hereby corroborates about the agreement to join the 2003 Berlin Declaration on Open Access to Knowledge in the Sciences and Humanities. By the decision on the agreement academic and scientific community of the University takes the responsibility not to only sustain open science and open access principles but also to contribute to the enrichment of scientific knowledge base by ensuring accountability and visibility of scientific research outcomes.

Brusov State University acknowledges that by signing the Berlin Declaration, it also holds with dignity the duties and commitment to follow open access principles and adopt values that are stipulated by the strategies, policies, and procedures deriving from the aforementioned Declaration. In addition, the development of scientific research and its quality assurance are among strategic priorities for the University which is in alignment with the open access paradigm endorsed by the Berlin Declaration. Hence, due to the MINERVA project - "Strengthening Research Management and Open Science Capacities of HEIs in Moldova and Armenia", Brusov State University will transform and improve its institutional practice of conduction of scientific research activities, dissemination and publication of respective outcomes, to increase accountability and transparency of its scientific research as well as to ensure higher level of integration of its researchers and other stakeholders in the processes aimed at facilitation and concordant advancement of science, research and education.
